

Sustainability

At Bluewattle, we are committed to creating an environmentally sensitive development that responds to the local environment.

EnviroDevelopment Certification

The Urban Development Institute of Australia has awarded EnviroDevelopment certification to over 65 developments across the country for their commitment to environmental sustainability.

Bluewattle is proud to have received certification for its sustainability and environmentally sensitive design.

Intelligent urban and landscape design features, conscientious stormwater management and low energy technology provide housing options that not only complement Townsville's tropical climate, but help to deliver health, social and financial benefits to residents.

Environmentally responsive construction of your home

Sustainability is becoming an increasingly important factor in North Queensland homes as it reduces living costs and benefits the environment. At Bluewattle, we encourage you to talk to your builder and incorporate as many sustainable elements into your home as possible.
